

Guy L. Green Award

1972-2013

The highest honor that I bestowed upon a Corriedale breeder is the Guy L Green Trophy. This traveling trophy is presented to an individual at the annual meeting each year. The new recipient is selected each year by the Executive Board and is someone that has served on various committees, held an office in the Association and been very instrumental in promoting the Corriedale breed. Their success in breeding Corriedales over the years, their accomplishments and achievements, along with guidance and direction for the breed are very instrumental in the selection of the recipient. It is an honor for longstanding dedication, devotion and contributions to the Corriedale breed.

Recognizing the need for recognition to Mr. Green for his devotion to the Corriedale breed for many years, a trophy was presented to him in 1972. It has been said that at one time every major breeder in Ohio either had used a Green ram or a closely related ram. His sheep were always noted for their fleeces. Guy L. Green made tremendous contributions to the improvement and promotion of Corriedales. It was decided to make this presentation at the annual meeting each year and present the previous recipient with a permanent engraved plaque. In 1977, the silver tray that was used for this award had been filled with names so Lanny Crawford, Iowa Corriedale breeder donated a new silver tray for use in the upcoming years.
