Dear Membership,

Enclosed you will find a outline of the project that will be conducted at the US Sheep Experiment Station located in Dubois Idaho. As you can see by the topics of research, we as Texel producers will benefit greatly from taking part in this project. The Board is very excited that our breed has been chosen as one of only a few select breeds to participate.

As Texel breeders we know the superior carcass characteristics that our breed possesses; now we have the opportunity to show the “sheep world” what we can do.

In reading the specific requirements that the Station has requested, you will notice that they are looking for the “cream of the Texel crop”. If you will have rams that will meet these requirements listed, this coming year or perhaps in subsequent years, please submit your name and a brief description of the rams you will have to the TSBS office. Please include age of ram(s), brief pedigree, and asking price. We would appreciate your response no later than February 1st. Thank you for your participation.

Sincerely,

The Board of Directors
Texel Sheep Breeders Society
